

I gladly pay for satellite radio because of the choices of music, news, and yes, traffic reports and weather reports. I understand that the NAB, and its lobbyists are trying to convince the FCC that traditional broadcasters should have the monopoly on providing local weather and traffic broadcasts.

I feel this move is wrong and in contradiction to free capitalism that has allowed new technologies to flourish. An industry that reacts to threats from new innovations in serving their customers, rather than trying to compete fairly in the marketplace is doomed.

I request that FCC concentrate on using my tax dollars on more pressing matters. The FCC's forays into censorship and restricted competition are misguided.
